

Roger Pell

“We all went to the village hall and, people came around and said oh I’ll take that one or those two or these three or whatever and we were almost the last to be picked. Mainly because I, in news had got ahead of me that I was still, I was a bed-wetter <OK>. At four years old you know they didn’t want to know and we were actually taken in I suppose by what you could say was the Lady of the Manor. And we spent most of our time living with the servants.”
