

Maisie Hamilton

Oh I loved them both they were both very, very good to me, they bought me clothes from head to foot as soon as I got there though I'd come with plenty of clothes they bought me another new wardrobe and everywhere they went I went with them and when it was time for the café I helped to wait on and wash up and I got me tips and I helped mow the lawn and well I really enjoyed that way of life it was lovely.