

Shirley Webb

“They assumed obviously that they were better than us in some way or another, they were superior to us and that was as I say nothing that I had ever met before, and erm, perhaps I’d lived a sheltered life up till then I don’t know, but er, it was, it was so totally alien to anything that I had ever known before. And in addition I had, you know I felt responsible, as much as I could for my little brother.”